

To NT PMAS

The JMO Forum is pleased to report back to you after its first two meetings of the newly formed committee. Below is an update on our current operations. We'd welcome any feedback or suggestions from your team about how we can best work with the wider PMAS operations to make the educational and professional development experience of NT doctors the best in Australia.

JMOF ToR

The committee is reviewing the terms of reference following the lull of 2022 to ensure that the composition and activities are in line with the objectives and within scope of the committee. These will be voted on at the February NTJMOF meeting. You can see a draft linked below

Feedback on AMC Prevocational Trainee Guide

The AMC via the CPMEC AJMOC asked for feedback on their new guide for medical students and junior doctors in understanding the new PGY1/PGY2 Prevocational Training Framework. This feedback was on the structure and content of the guide rather than the framework itself, and was submitted on the 7th of February 2023.

Proposal for Trainee Feedback in Accreditation Processes

The NT JMOF has been discussing the benefit of direct JMO Feedback to survey teams in accreditation of health services. The challenge of individual surveys of JMOs is that it relies on engagement which is often poor, and it also suffers from both sample and recency bias. We'd like to propose a process by which JMO Societies submit a report as part of the accreditation process, similar to the AMC's procedure for accreditation of medical schools. We are working on the finer details of this proposal and consulting with other state JMO Forums to learn about their processes. Work on this proposal is ongoing and we will aim to have it finalised following the February/March meeting.

Collaboration with Hospital-based JMO Societies

To best inform representation and advocacy, we would like to partner with local Representative JMO Societies to get feedback. This relationship will be bi-directional in that any advocacy concerns we identify that are best dealt with at a local level. The Chair of RDH DTAG David has been involved, and I have attended on behalf of ASH RMO Soc. We look forward to seeing this partnership grow over the year.

If there are any other opportunities for the NT JMOF to provide feedback or assistance to PMAS please don't hesitate to get in touch via ntjmoforum@gmail.com.

Warmest regards,

Dr Dayna Duncan
